Director's Message

Dr. Nandita Mishra

Ph.D., M.Phil., M.A. Economics

It is my distinct pleasure to invite you to participate in the placement process of Chetana's Institute of Management & Research, Mumbai. The information presented here is only a part of our continuing effort to serve various stakeholders such as students, staff, alumni, and the business community.

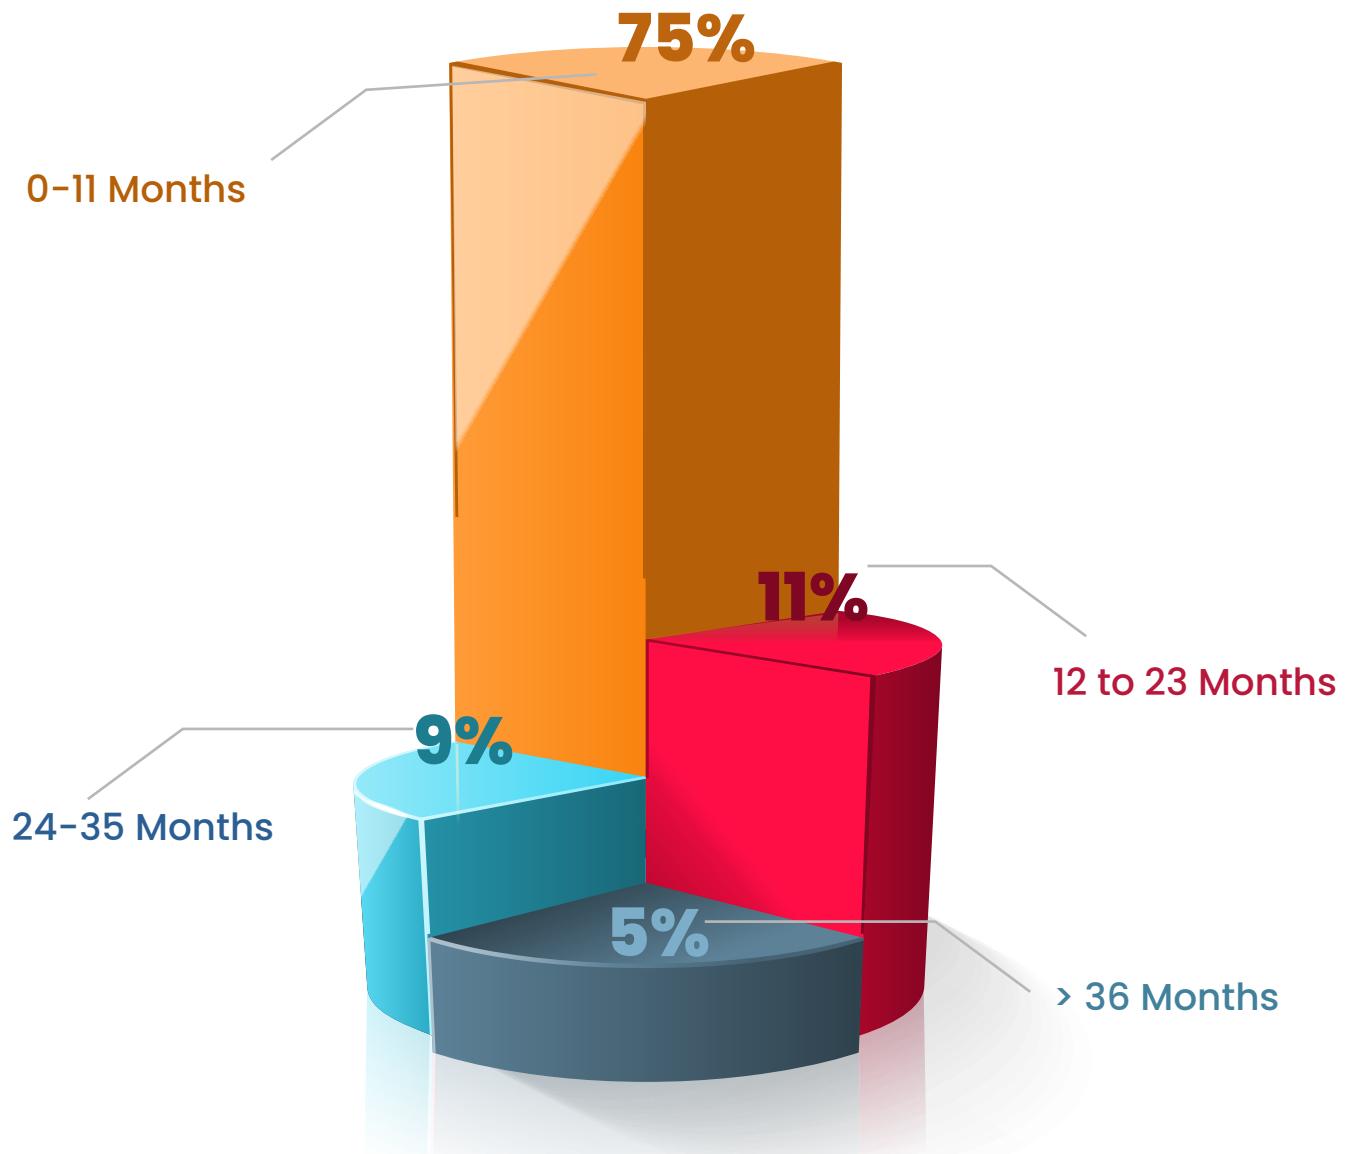

The founder president of Chetana's, Late Shri Madhukarao Chaudhari's vision translated into a clear objective of establishing Chetana's Institute of Management & Research in 1996. This objective has been to promote CIMR as an institute which provides significant opportunities to learn, grow and most importantly, develop and hone multiple skills across various disciplines of management.

We believe that learning should be an enjoyable process that allows one to develop their goals and aspirations, and provides one with the constant support to achieve these goals. Our academic collaboration with the industry is an important dimension of our corporate relations. Through our continuous placement grooming sessions, alumni mentoring, live projects, summer internships and industry oriented projects, the students are made corporate ready. The students also nurture respect and a sense of achievement. They have developed ambition and pride themselves in excellence. Our students are our greatest ambassadors!

It is our objective to support companies in a changing world by combining theoretical progress and their implications in business. Indeed, we believe that close co-operation with the business sector and our growing alumni network is the essential precondition for a successful business school. Research and consultancy is a major priority at Chetana's Institute of Management & Research. CIMR's full-time faculty members have been working on the creation of new knowledge. The aim has been to contribute new insights to the national and international academic communities on the one side and to provide innovative contents for teaching on the other side. We are all dedicated to groom our students as successful Business Leaders. Our recent introduction of "Master- Class" is designed to increase students' understanding of leadership and communication in teams. I am privileged to invite you on campus for the placement process of PGDM batch 2020-22 and can assure you of the rich CIMR experience.
